

Ten Reasons I Don't Trust You

As an ordinary Canadian, I've always had reasons to be a little cautious about putting trust in politicians and bureaucrats. Frequently over-confident, often distant and unrelatable, almost always a little too slick and greasy. But in these past two years, I've seen you for what you are: simply unworthy of any trust. Here are just ten reasons (I could easily name ten more – heck, I'll do just that later):

- 1. You didn't look after residents of Long-Term Care Homes, even when the pandemic really started there and was concentrated in those homes.

Up to now, 80% (9,650 out of 11,970) of all Ontario Covid deaths have been of people aged 70 and older, with a disproportionate number of these being LTCH residents. You pretended that there was no graduated risk based primarily on age and health condition.

- 2. You didn't differentiate between hospitalizations and deaths "with Covid" and "from Covid". The difference is obviously important, and you ignored it until 2022.

For the vast majority of cases, even a lay person with no training could correctly determine whether someone is in hospital "with Covid" or "from Covid". If they are brought in with a gunshot wound, or following a car accident, or with bee stings all over their body, and you happen to run a PCR test that comes out positive for Covid, this is "with Covid". Having Covid is not why they are in the hospital. And yet, all along, you have counted all such people as Covid hospitalizations and, if they died, as Covid deaths. This is blatantly dishonest and completely unnecessary – and to this day, no one has come clean to say how many hospitalizations and deaths were "with Covid".

- 3. You continue to pretend that natural immunity does not exist.

Natural immunity is one of the most basic elements of epidemiology. This indicates that you are not serious about the management of illness within a population, and the prudent use of resources (i.e. by ignoring natural immunity, you force jabs on people who don't need them, because they are immune).

4. Even if we assume that the Covid jabs are safe, they are definitely not effective vaccines.

You told us that the Covid jab prevents infection; it is not true. You told us that the Covid jab prevents transmission; it is not true. You told us that the Covid jab prevents hospitalization and death. It is not true. Not one of these things is true, and yet you still want to force the Covid jab on everyone.

5. You have ignored clear data from all the places that took different approaches to you.

Even now, you continue to pretend that you cannot look to places like Sweden, South Africa and Florida and learn anything relevant to managing your public health response in a sane, sensible, calm and holistic manner. You refuse to consider that maybe your decisions and interference have made the problems worse. For example, if barely 30% of South African adults are “vaccinated” and they’ve had a mild Omicron wave, why would more Covid jabs be the answer in Ontario with well over 85% of adults “vaccinated”? Especially when those “vaccinated” are getting infected just as much as the “unvaccinated”?

6. You have pretended that the negative consequences of the policies you employed in response to Covid do not exist, or do not matter.

Unemployment, especially amongst poor and working class people, has been ignored. The decline in mental health (resulting in depression and suicide), domestic and drug abuse, and child neglect and abuse that accompanies the economic impact of lockdown and the isolation of lockdown have been ignored, dismissed or minimized. As have all the developmental harms suffered by children. No serious consideration has been given to what it will take to recover the proper functioning of and trust in our social institutions – political parties, public health, police, teachers, doctors, courts, legislatures, sports codes, human rights bodies, etc.

7. Your models have been wrong time and time again.

Your models took into account the interventions that they recommended, and they were still wrong. At no point did you take public accountability of just how garbage your models were. And you haven’t stopped modelling with the same garbage teams producing the same garbage models.

8. You repeatedly said that “Schools would be the last to close and the first to re-open.” That was a lie.

You flip-flopped on school closures. You had no credible plan for dealing with very young children who simply should not be in front of screens for six or eight hours a day, or for supporting those with no access to devices or high-speed internet. Indeed, the 6% or so of Canadian households without internet access were effectively ignored and their children left to fall behind. And, when schools closed, most malls and entertainment venues remained open and unaffected.

9. You support censorship.

You think that I don't have the intelligence and good sense to listen to differing points of view and make up my own mind about my own health. You have the arrogance to think that you can treat me like a child, deciding what I will hear and what I will see and be able to decide about. When prominent and credible Canadian organizations and individuals with solid medical professional credentials have spoken out against the mainstream Covid narrative, you have sided with their persecutors and censors.

10. You do not respect my bodily autonomy.

Apparently you would respect my right to carve up my own body, to take harmful and illegal drugs, to smoke, to overeat or undereat (all of which could lead to me “taking up a hospital bed”, of course), to kill another human being (through abortion), even to kill myself (through euthanasia or suicide); and yet somehow you have decided – in a liberal western democracy, no less – that I have no right to say “NO” to a drug treatment. My individual circumstances and medical condition do not matter to you. By your blanket mandates, you have completely broken the trust of the patient–doctor relationship that is supposed to be protected, private and personal.
